BRIEF SUMMARY

As a BSc IT student, my career objective is to apply my knowledge and skills in Information Technology to excel in roles like Software development, web development or IT support. Proficient in programming languages including Python, Java, and HTML/CSS, I possess hands-on experience in web development, software design, and Database Management. I see myself contributing effectively to project teams, refining my practical abilities, and gaining real-world exposure in the IT realm. In my organizational choice, I seek an innovative environment that encourages growth and values diverse perspectives. I aspire to contribute my expertise while learning from experienced professionals, creating a mutually beneficial dynamic that advances both personal and organizational success.
